

This is the story so far...

Erin lived near a big fishing town and longed to go out to sea on a boat with her mum. Everyone told her it was too dangerous because of the legend of Black Rock. One day, she sneaked onto the boat without her mum noticing and it set off with her on board.

We are going to write the next part of the story about when the thick fog appears .

Sentence 1

When did the fog appear?

- At dusk
- That night
- Later that

How did the fog come down?

- quickly
- slowly
- like a blanket

Sentence 2

Use repetition.

- thick
- thicker
- thickest

The fog was _____. The fog grew _____ It was the _____ fog ever!

Sentence 3

Use the word 'until to join two ideas.

- It got worse
- It grew darker
- It got thicker

until

- Erin felt lost.
- Erin could not see her hands.
- it was pitch black.

Tuesday 19th January

We are going to write the next part of the story about when the boat gets close to a huge rock.

Sentence 1

What does the rock look like ? Where is it?

huge enormous large

dark pointy
sharp

ahead
in front of them
in the water

A _____, _____ rock was _____

Sentence 2

Use a simile.

raven
coal
the night sky

The rock was as black as _____

Sentence 3

What would Erin think? Choose an idea or your own.

Oh no!
What shall we do?
We are going to crash.

Wednesday 20th January

We are going to write the next part of the story about when Erin falls out of the boat.

Sentence 1

How did the boat move?

jerkily
abruptly roughly

The boat turned _____.

Sentence 2

What does the water sound like?

splash
crash whoosh roar
splat

Erin went under the water. _____! _____! _____!

Sentence 3

What were the waves doing?

roaring crashing booming

The waves were _____ against the rocks.